The need for local service evaluation means that in Public Health we may need to look at qualitative evidence from self-created surveys to see if service provision meets the needs of the population to which it is targeted. In this instance we would seek the views of as many service users as possible. These results would not necessarily be generalisable to the population, but give good evidence that represents the target group in question. As part of a performance analysis at the end of the MEND HEA, I was asked by the Healthy Weight Team Manager to look at alternative programmes being used elsewhere and the sorts of results they were getting with a view to assessing how well the MEND programme was working comparatively, and also whether Medway should perhaps commission a different programme. A Public Health Registrar started this process by making a list of interventions which I then looked at in detail. For each one it was important to look at the numbers of children and young people who had taken part in a programme, the evidence behind the intervention (whether an RCT or locally designed for example) and the accuracy with which results were published, including the presence of confidence intervals. Ev 1.28b is an email and spreadsheet I produced detailing each of these things and comparing published results with Medway's MEND outcomes. I also then incorporated some of this information into the presentation I gave to the Healthy Weight Team on this piece of work (see slide 13 of ev 1.07). I used Alive n Kickin' as an example of a programme introduced to a local area that didn't have an evidence base that I could see, had small numbers of children completing so far and had not reported confidence intervals on results. Once I knew how to find evidence and the types of papers available, I then needed to learn how to assess their reliability and attended a local critical	1.28b	1.07

The bottom left screenshot shows the 'EVIDENCE TYPE UPLOAD' section with tabs for 'Upload', 'Type', 'Details', and 'Cross Reference'. The 'EVIDENCE INFO' section displays 'Name: Commentary 1 (v2 for clarifications) - Implementing the Stoptober Campaign in Kent.pdf' and 'Size: 94 Kb'. The 'USED IN:' section states 'This evidence has not been cross-referenced.' The right side of the collage shows a file explorer window with a list of files, including 'Commenta...in Kent.pdf', 'Commenta...uncil.docx', 'Commenta...Kent.docx', 'Commenta...uncil.docx', 'Commenta...in Kent.pdf', 'Commenta...in Kent.pdf', 'Copies of...ficates.docx', 'Job Description.docx', 'My CV.docx', 'Reference.docx', 'Testimonial.docx', and 'UKPHR Ap...fication.doc'. As part of the application for assessment your CV and job description may already have been submitted. If these have not changed then nothing more needs to be done. However if your role has changed or you need to update your CV then you will need to replace the originals with the latest versions.

In this section you will see the CV and or job descriptions that have been submitted.

STEP 2a If required you can remove the original CV and Job Description by clicking on “Choose Evidence” which will open a new pop-up...

3c Click 'NA' for their type and tick the appropriate box under the Cross-Reference tab.

STEP 4a Remove the original CV and job description by clicking on “Choose Evidence” which will open a new pop-up...

STEP 3a Once signed the document is uploaded to the system as usual and cross-referenced into Supporting Documents.

The screenshot shows the 'Competence Claim' form. It contains a table with columns: Document Title, Evidence Type, IV, and Supporting Documents. The Supporting Documents column has sub-columns I, II, III, IV, and V. A hand cursor points to the 'Copies of Certificates' row, which has a checkmark in column II. Other rows include 'Job Description', 'Testimonial', 'Reference', and 'My CV Updated'.
